The cup packs:

1) Spoiler Pack – Includes front splitter and cup spoiler as per the 172 cup

Spoiler:

Splitter:

2) Suspension Pack – Includes anthracite alloy wheels rather than silver, lower firmer suspension and a wider track.

ONLY if a 182 contains both cup packs it can be referred to as FF or Full Fat

Available in the following colours:

- Black Gold (267)
- Titanium (647)
- Inferno (D38)
- Petrol Blue (F94)
- Liquid Yellow (J37)
- Arctic Blue (J41)

Example Picture, this is a 'full fat' 182:

Example Picture, this is a regular 182 without cup packs:

Notice the lack of front splitter, smaller spoiler, slightly higher ride height and silver wheels

Clio 182 Cup – Introduced in 2004

Specification includes:

- No Xenons (therefore lack of light washers, instead replaced by blanking caps) (see 172 cup)
- Cloth Seats (see 172 cup)
- Manual Air conditioning
- Distinctive twin exhaust system
- Cruise Control + Traction Control
- Optional Recaro Seats
- Both Cup Packs (See 182 above)
- Optional Racing Stripes (Racing Blue only)

Available in the following colours:

- Inferno (D38)
- Racing Blue (J45)

Unlike the 172 cup, the 182 cup retains ABS, combined with the fact Air Conditioning is also present there is no noticeable gains from the model over a normal 182 other than it is cheaper.

Example Picture

Notice the lack of headlight washers, instead blanks are used.
